AUUG Code Con 2004
Open Air Open Source
Friday 17 evening to Sunday 19-Sep-2004

A Code Con is intended to be a low cost conference, with a focus on developers doing presentations of working code, rather than on companies with products to sell.

Caves Beach is a sleepy little town on the Central Coast of NSW. The same geology which makes this area a rich coal field also provides some beautiful sea caves along the coastline. Nearby are great surfing beaches, numerous National Parks and reserves, and plenty of fishing.

The Breakers Holiday Complex is right on the beach at Caves Beach. It will be about 100m from our marquee to the surf. There is fresh water, electrons for the laptops, coin operated gas BBQs and coin operated hot showers.

Caves Beach is a little more than 2 hours north of the Sydney CBD by car.

Imagine a Code Con in this relaxed setting. We will have a marquee, a data projector, and a collection of coders. There is room for plenty of people in tents. Two nights and a two days of hacking and talking.

Each participant is expected to give a a 5 to 30 minute talk on a project they are hacking on at present, or a hacking-type subject. Spaces are extremely limited, so book early to take advantage of this opportunity to get to know the latest in the hacking community!

BYO Laptop

Also BYO tent, sleeping bag, food, stove, beverages, networking gear, extension cord, geek toys. BYO everything, basically.
